Salary increases for county officials taking office January 7, 1963, have been authorized in an ordinance adopted by the Nevada County Board of Supervisors at their meeting Friday.

At the same time the board proposed to adjust their own salaries from the present $3,000 a year to $4,800 starting in 1963 to maintain the average of other counties of the state.

Under the ordinance adopted Friday, the county clerk and auditor, now receiving approximately $8,000 will receive $5,667 per annum as clerk, and approximately $5,000 for the work as auditor, for a total of about $11,000.

The sheriff's salary would be raised from $7,500 to $10,236.

The county recorder's pay would be boosted from the present $5,400 to $7,875, under terms of the ordinance.

The treasurer and tax collector, a combined office, will receive $3,955, an increase of $2,000 over the present pay for this office.

Salary for the county assessor will go from $6,600 to present to $9,846 starting January 7, 1963.

The ordinance was adopted by a vote of four supervisors, with Supervisor Robinson not voting.

Under an existing law, the salary of the district attorney, set by the state legislature, will advance to $14,500.

Nuisance Cars To Be Cited By Patrol

Cars and trucks which are left parked on streets and highways during snow removal operations will be cited.

This was the warning issued by Lieutenant Oliver Ledford of the California Highway Patrol who pointed out the difficulties encountered by snow removal crews when vehicles are left along the streets and highways.

The trouble, he said, has occurred principally in the Gateway and Meadow Park areas of Truckee and at Tahoe City, Kings Beach and Squaw Valley.

The practice is in violation of the vehicle code, Ledford declared and not only will citations be issued but the offending vehicles will be towed away and the owner charged with the costs.

Prosser Dam Now 81 Per Cent Ready

Bureau of reclamation officials said the Prosser Creek Dam Project four miles north of Truckee is 81 per cent complete.

Work on the dam was halted for the season last week and will resume in April. The dam had been scheduled for completion by next June but Construction Superintendent Max Johnson said it may take several months longer. Preparing the foundation took more time than was expected and this is said to be the principal reason the work is behind schedule.

Johnson stated the actual earth embankment is about 50 per cent complete. The dam is 80 feet above the stream bed with another 61 feet to go.

Johnson explained it is doubtful whether water will be stored in the partly completed reservoir this winter as originally planned. Officials believe it is wiser to reserve the space behind the dam for flood protection. Johnson indicated the present capacity of the reservoir is sufficient to handle a flood as great as the one which occurred during the winter of 1955-56.

Voters To Decide Whether Area Is To Have District

Requests for exclusion from the proposed fifth supervisorial district recreational area totaled only 6.68 per cent of the property affected and as a result the board of supervisors Friday voted 4 to 1 to set the date for an election and denied the exclusions.

It was learned that the requests for an exclusion totaled $341,060 of assessed valuation compared to the total of $5,106,140 assessed valuation in the district. This latter figure does not take in nearly $5,000,000 in utilities assessments, none of which asked to be excluded from the proposed district.

Exclusions were asked by petitions from Kingvale, Soda Springs and Floriston with individuals at Donner Lake and a couple from Truckee seeking to be eliminated from the proposed district.

The date for the election will be set by the board of supervisors and at the same election directors for the district will be candidates on the ballots.

Guy N. Robinson was the only member of the board voting against the formation of the district.

The district, proposed by the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce, is designed to provide a number of recreational facilities, including purchase of the beach at the west end of Donner Lake for public use, development of facilities at the new Prosser reservoir and similar projects throughout the region.

DIVOT-DIGGERS

By BETTY KIELHOFER

Well, here I am again with some 'red hot' news of the Country Club . . . the skating party at Blyth Arena in Squaw Valley is on and a bang-up time is planned for all who attend . . . Mr. Van Rooy, who runs the rink, made a big concession and gave us special group rates for the occasion. It will only cost the adults $1, the children from 13 to 18 75 cents and youngsters under this only 50 cents. These prices include skates or are the same if you bring your own. There is a food bar right there so you won't have to bring a thing except, and heed this, warm, warm, clothing. I can't stress this too much 'cause this is what the 'regulars' tell me . . . skating begins at 7:45 and all you must do is tell the cashier that you are a member of the Shadow Valley

Country Club or a guest and you will be granted the special rate.

If you plan to attend the local basketball games, come on out afterward . . . don't be a sissy if you can't skate (like me) . . . it will be fun to learn or just to watch . . . Remember — Friday, December 8 . . . I also want to mention that the country club is working industriously on the New Year's Eve party which will be held at the Capitol in Truckee for members and guests. It will be $3 per person, which includes an elaborate 1 a.m. buffet and a real orchestra. The huge upstairs room of the Capitol is being completely remodeled and I hear it will be lovely. Cocktail attire will be a 'must' and we'll give you more details on this at a later date . . . just want you to be planning on it now . . . plans are being made for a pre-meet party with dancing to begin about 10 but we'll tell you where and what time when they are complete.

I was asked along with several other parents to act as chaperons at a teen-age dance at the Legion Hall last Friday night and I really got an education . . . these kids hired a combo from Roseville and I must say it was good . . . I wasn't aware there were so many ways to dance . . . the walls of the building were literally bouncing . . . there were about 80 youngsters there and I understand from Betty Pauley, who organizes these affairs, that it will be a regu-

SQUAW VALLEY HAS BRIGHT PROSPECTS

SACRAMENTO — Look at it from any angle and prospects appear bright for Squaw Valley in 1962, the department of parks and recreation said.

Director Charles A. Deturk said, "If advance bookings are criteria — we can look forward to a happy year."

Added to the "world's best skiing course," Deturk said a heated swimming pool in Olympic Village, a junior and beginners ski jump, and additional ski hills for junior and beginner skiers will be ready.

The commission, meantime, has informed resort owner Alex Cushing a tram-type lift is required at Papoose Peak and that if he doesn't build it, negotiations will be started with others.

The Lodgepole pine is found in all parts of the west except Arizona and New Mexico.

lar thing for the rest of the winter. They all seemed completely oblivious of the presence of adults and behaved beautifully . . . such energy. I hope everything works out well for them and they are able to continue. — see you with more news soon.

TAHOE MAN SERVES IN NAVY EXERCISES

COAST OF CALIFORNIA—(FHTNC)—Cary L. Hanks, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hanks of Tahoe City, while serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Helena, participated in a large-scale Navy and Marine Corps training exercise, observed by Admiral George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, on November 18, off the coast of southern California.

More than 40 Navy ships and aircraft squadrons, and elements of the First Marine Division and Third Marine Aircraft Wing took part in the operation, which featured anti-submarine warfare operations, missile firing, carrier operations and an amphibious assault.

DAN SHEEHAN WITH COAST MARINE UNIT

COAST OF CALIFORNIA (FHTNC)—Marine Cpl. Dan P. Sheehan, son of Mrs. Pauline Sheehan of Tahoe City, while serving with the Third Marine Aircraft Wing, participated in a large-scale Navy and Marine Corps training exercise observed by Admiral George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, on November 18, off the coast of Southern California.

More than 40 Navy ships and aircraft squadrons, and elements of the First Marine Division and Third Marine Aircraft Wing took part in the operation, which featured anti-submarine warfare operations, missile firing, carrier operations and an amphibious assault.

CHARLES HANKS IS PROMOTED IN NAVY

WESTERN PACIFIC (FHTNC)—Charles W. Hanks, Jr., machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hanks of Tahoe City, was promoted, November 18, while serving in the Western Pacific aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga.

Navy promotions for enlisted personnel are the result of semi-annual fleet-wide competitive examinations.

Operating with the powerful Seventh Fleet, the Ticonderoga is visiting such places as Hong Kong, Japan and the Philippines. She is scheduled to return to San Diego, Calif., in early 1962.

LENGTHY HEARING BY RAIL FIRMS IS ENDED

SAN FRANCISCO — The marathon interstate commerce commission public hearing on the struggle between Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railways for control of the 1,200-mile Western Pacific has closed.

About two and a half million words of testimony were heard by ICC Examiner Paul C. Albus in nearly 11 weeks of hearings, stretching since last July in five western cities. A total of 485 witnesses testified and introduced 320 exhibits, some of these hundreds of pages thick.

FOREST OFFICES NOW IN NEW LOCATION

The Supervisor's Office of the Tahoe National Forest was completely relocated into a new office building November 20. The new building, located on highway 49 close to the highway 49-20 junction, north of the downtown section of Nevada City, was constructed by private interests for occupancy by the forest service.

Prior to July 1, 1951 the Supervisor's Office was located in downtown Nevada City. As the activity of the forest increased and more space was needed, it was necessary to move from downtown to the Morris building on Banner Mountain Road. That space was also outgrown, as the years passed by, necessitating larger quarters in order to keep the organization all together. After the 1959 and 1960 fire seasons, with much land rehabilitation work to do, the forest had to place 15 of its employees in the Veteran of Foreign War building in Nevada City.

The present building is well arranged and individual and group offices are all located to promote the maximum work efficiency.

Forest Supervisor H. E. Branagh announced that an open house will be held at the new office on Sunday, January 21, 1962.

NOTICE OF HEARING

VARIANCE FOR REZONING TAHOE CITY

Notice is hereby given by the Placer County Planning Commission that a public hearing will be held by said Commission on Friday, December 8, 1961 and Friday, December 22, 1961 in the Supervisors' Room, Courthouse, Auburn, California, at the hour of 10:30 a.m. to consider the application of C. M. Vigil for a variance to have the property at Tahoe Terrace, Lot 35, Bettincourt Resubdivision rezoned R-2 in order that a Duplex can be built. Said Variance is requested because a large percentage of the lots in this subdivision have two units built on them already and a re-zoning of this property would allow the construction of two units on this property to conform with the other lots in the subdivision. At said hearing all persons in favor of the granting of said variance and all persons opposed thereto may be heard.

NORTH TAHOE BRIEFS...

... By BETHEL

Women's Club of North Tahoe enjoyed Monday afternoon hearing about "Beauty—From Head to Toe."

Ceta Hooper provided the novel and charming dolls used as table decorations. The dolls all had different colored hair and hair-dos and attire. White and green candles completed the table decor. Alice Hall presided at the meeting in absence of president Pearl Kientz. The club decided to join the "Riches to Rags" Christmas party being sponsored by the Lake Tahoe Sierra Emblem Club No. 347 which will be held December 13, Friday evening, at the Nevada Lodge, from 9 p. m. on. An orchestra under the direction of Frank Austin will provide dance music and a midnight buffet will be served. Reservations may be made by phoning Pearl Draney, LI 7-2407, or Louise Walter at LI 6-2131. Costumes, by the way, are to be keeping with the theme—rags. Tattered clothing and patches will prevail instead of fine feathers. Sounds like fun. Bern May is Emblem chairman who thought this up.

Louis and Louise Antillon of Kings Beach entertained Dwight and Alice Kent of Napa over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Bud and Sharon Wheeler of Sacramento spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Sharon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Austin of Kings Beach.

Fred and Rose Baker and children, Stanley, Virginia and Ronnie of Tahoe Vista enjoyed a family reunion dinner Thanksgiving. Guests were Roses father, Sam Guerrero, brothers Phil and Tony, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil De Armond all of Sparks.

Mrs. Carl (Lorene) Bell of Tahoe Vista is recuperating from a fractured toe sustained in gathering wood. Too energetic. Speedy recovery, Lorene.

Bob and Mae Critchley of Tahoe Vista were San Francisco visitors over the weekend. Mae to Presbyterian Hospital for a check-up on her back. Report good progress, will report back again in the spring.

Jean Jacobs, Tahoe Vista summer resident and Oakland winter resident, reports that husband, Mark, is home from the hospital following his heart attack. Steady progress is being made but Mark must remain home for about two months.

Armand and Georgia Abrahamian and children Sharyn, Johnny and Gary, of Tahoe Vista were Thanksgiving guests of Georgia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christensen at Lodi.

A sing-along-for-fun group is being planned by Helene Batt of Crystal Bay. Singers who wish to join in the fun may do so by phoning LI 7-3459. Among the singers are Ann Tiller, Dan and Joan Hauserman, Rod and Ellie Campbell, Ruth Mizner, Helen Ehlers, Gladys Thorwaldsen and Helene.

Joseph and Kathleen Tiano of New York City arrived at Incline Beach to spend the Christmas and New Year holidays with Pierre and Adeline Bonvin.

Pierre and Adeline Bonvin of Incline Beach spent Thanksgiving with Adeline's sister, Mrs. Natalie Bucher, at San Jose. Also visited Adeline's other sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Stadler at Sonoma for the weekend.

Stan and Pat Simmons and children, Reed and Cheryl have moved back to Tahoe Vista from Reno. Came in with the snow storm.

Mike and Millie Plevel and children Patrick, Michael, David, Michele and Louise of Kings Beach have departed for Aspen, Colorado, for the winter. Mike will manage the Golden Horn Res-

COUNTY RICHER BY $8.76 FROM GRAZING

If taxpayers in Nevada and some other counties, including Placer, react with a "ho hum" over the announcement that federal grazing fees have been apportioned, they have plenty of reason.

State Controller Alan Cranston announced he has completed apportionment of a total of $47,524 to 58 counties. The money is collected from stockmen by the federal bureau of land management for the privilege of letting herds graze on federal land. The money is distributed on a basis of how much grazing land a county has.

Nevada County coffers were enriched by a whopping $8.76 while Placer County picked up $17.37.

The fire marshal said there were no aisles or walkways in the area which prevented ready access by fire fighters. The fire marshal said this had been reported to the proper authorities of the prison at the time of the last safety check and some remedial measures were actually in progress when the fire occurred.

DONNER DOINGS

By VIRGINIA O'BEAR

With all the publicity through the newspapers and on television, this winter should be one of the busiest ski seasons for a long time. Last weekend the slopes were covered with skiers from all over the country. With the school ski and skate program, many youngsters will learn these popular sports.

Mrs. Richard Walker will return this week from a trip to Kansas after a visit with her folks. Dick stayed home and kept the home fires burning as he could not get away at this time. Jean traveled by car going with her cousin but will return by train this week.

Mrs. Leah Tarleton and young son Scott are staying at Arline Johnsons cabin for a week. They are from San Francisco and plan many weekends skiing in the various ski resorts.

Martha Pankoke spent several days at the Tahoe Forest Hospital last week as she is having trouble with one of her legs that was injured in a fall. She got out in time to supervise the first dancing class which started last Thursday. If you still are interested in dance instruction, give Martha a call, registrations are still available.

It's just a few more weeks until Christmas and it seems so good to hear Christmas carols again. One thing for sure, it will be a white Christmas here in the mountains. A lot of people will be going away and many will stay home again and many dread the holidays because of the expense. If we stop and think what Christmas means, it can be a very happy one being with the ones you love. People are learning to live within their budgets and gift giving can be solved in many ways if you have understanding and a knack for making things for yourself which are really more appreciated anyway.

The Christmas party committee for the Auxiliary of the Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department urges all members and their husbands to set aside the 14th of December for a wonderful evening of dinner and get-together. There will be a gift exchange and the firemen and their wives have been invited. There is no charge to attend the Christmas party which will be held at Donner Lake Lodge with dinner to start at 8 o'clock. For further information, contact Muriel Wiser or Donna Warnke.

thee: the Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace."
The concluding passage states:
"Divine love always has met and always will meet every human

FOREST FIRE PLANS ARE OUTLINED AT SACRAMENTO MEET

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—A forest fire research expert has told a senate committee fire prevention efforts and research should be directed toward fires during the critical burning times of the year. Keith Arnold, director of the U. S. forest service experiment station in Berkeley, told the committee on natural resources, weather index ratings have been worked out for each of 142 climatic zones in California. These include the ignition index, or the probability of fires starting; the burning index, indicating how much a fire will spread and how intense it will be; and fire-load index, combining the ignitition and burning indices to give a measure of the total potential fire job faced by a fire-fighting organization.

"When the ignition index is about 80, the possibility of fire starts and spot fires is critical," Arnold said. "At the time of the Bel Air fire disaster in southern California, the ignition index at the Burbank station was 95, the burning index, 96, and the fire-load index, 100."

Arnold said the division of forestry and U. S. forest service use the indices in issuing or suspending debris burning permits or for controlling other operations in forest and wildlands.

Arnold said California's forests, watersheds and rangelands contain the most flammable fuels in the United States. Because of this, certain fire prevention tools, such as controlled burning, are hazardous in themselves.

One of the big prevention programs underway now, Arnold said,
is that of creating fuel-breaks, rather than firebreaks. Areas cleared by fire must be maintained or, several years after being burned, they have grown up to present a worse hazard than there was originally.

A fuel-break, on the other hand, provides for planting a cleared area with vegetation of low fuel volume or reduced flammability, or both. The problem has been to find the fire-retardant vegetation and, so far, there is little indication that such a vegetation exists.

Arnold said light burning is another possible management tool too but few areas lend itself to this technique. If the debris and brush below timber is too moist, it will not burn effectively; if it is too dry, most of the timber is killed or damaged by the ensuing fire.

Arnold said three years or experiments with cloud-seeding in California change to make any significant change in the number of lightning caused fires. However, he said a national research is underway and he feels some excellent developments will be made in the next few years.

On another phase of fires, C.
E. Green, fire warden of Solano county, said roadside fires present a major suppression problem in his county. Green said that, probably due to increased traffic, there are more and more fires along U.
S. 40. He said that on the worst fire weekend of the year, Sept.
2-3, a total of 54 fire calls were received and 47 of these were along U. S. 40.

Green said these fires normally don't cause much damage but it takes too much time and manpower to put them out. Green said the state division of highways used a rotary mower on the growth along the highway. He said this produced a mulch which created a greater fire hazard than the original grass.

"We've been able to handle utilities to have them keep their fire hazards down," Green said, "but we haven't figured out how to make the state do it."

Green said he believed spraying of roadside growth was the most effective means of fire prevention but it was costly for small fire districts with low budgets.

NATIONAL FORESTS ARE IMPORTANT SOURCE OF WATER

One of the publicly owned national forest watersheds, protected and managed by the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Such national forest watersheds are on the headwaters of many large river systems including the Colorado, Columbia, Rio Grande, Missouri, Arkansas, and Ohio. They are a major source of water for over 20,000,000 people and for more than 600 power developments including Hoover Dam. Water originating in the national forests irrigates an area greater in size than the states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Delaware combined. Thousands of industrial plants are dependent on them for their water supplies and watershed protection gets first consideration in all plans for national forest management. Water is priceless, and increased demands for water and other natural resources are bound to put an even greater pressure on your national forests in the years ahead. So the Forest Service, which is observing its Golden Anniversary this year, urges people everywhere to gain a better understanding of their dependence upon protection of watersheds, the source of their water supplies.

SUMMIT SCENE By FRAN COUILLARD

Know Shirley Brodeur? Shir's been a familiar face around these parts for many a winter. She's a ski patrol gal on the Soda Springs Ski Hill? She's a registered nurse from Sacramento? She's trim and blond and smiling? Know Shir? Well Shirley had made up her mind to spend a whole, bloomin' winter up here—no going home for patients or sick calls nor nothin'! Just spend a winter! And she's doing it. She will become (and Jim Winthers—Director of the Soda Springs Ski School is going to love this!) a member of Winther's Winter Warren. Get it? A Rabbit's homes? A warren. Snow bunnies? Get it? Hah!

Away from the puns and down to brass tacks. Ken Heinbach of Rainbow Tavern tells me that he is going to "take it easy" this coming season—that he has hired a manager. This "taking it easy" I want to see. Ken and Esther Heinbach are two of the hardest working people I have ever known. The only way they will ever "take it easy" is to wear eye blinds and ear plugs! And I'd like to make a small wager that if you enter spic and span Rainbow and Esther and Ken are on the premises—you'll find them with a bar towel, a waxing machine, an armload of sheets draped over an arm or a chef's apron or cap in evidence!

And we'll close on a mournful note which just reached our ears. John and Eleanor's beautiful little red Corvette—is within our eye's reach all smashed to pieces. Haven't all the details yet but called John in the hospital and he'll be home at his Soda Springs residence tomorrow with no more serious trouble than a broken rib. And we think that a good thought must have had an arm around him from the looks of his little red wagon! Real sorry John—and just when I was going to ask where you spent your Thanksgiving dinner, too.

MASTER PLANNING AT SQUAW STUDIED

Representatives of all interested parties within Squaw Valley—including state, federal and private—will meet at state park headquarters in Squaw Valley Friday, December 8 to discuss master planning of the area.

The state park master plan for winter sport facilities has been completed and it is hoped it can be coordinated with plans of private developers in the area including Alex Cushing, Wayne Poulsen, and the Kuhn and Miller interests, all of whom are large land owners or who operate facilities in the area.

Chairman Joseph Houghteling of the state park commission, commissioners Alfred Stern and Sterling Cramer, chief of the division of beaches and parks, and James Warren, deputy chief, will represent the state.

IMPROVEMENT BONDS FOR INCLINE PROJECT

CRYSTAL BAY—More than $5,000,000 was in the coffers of the Incline Village Improvement District today to finance construction of sewers, water systems and roads in the Incline Village development on Nevada's north shore of Lake Tahoe.

The money, proceeds from the sale of improvement district bonds, was delivered to Robert L. McDonald, president of the district, by Charles J. Terrana of Goodbody & Co., New York, one of the issue's underwriters.

BLISS HOME WILL BE VICARAGE FOR ST. NICHOLAS CHURCH

TAHOE CITY — Rev. Arnold Carlson announced this week a number of increased activities at St. Nicholas Episcopal Church at Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starratt have donated the former Bliss home in Tahoe City which is to be moved to the church grounds and used as a vicarage.

It was also announced that Robert Ives, assisted by his wife, Elsie Beardsley Ives, will be in charge of the church school and youth work. Ives is on leave from the church divinity school where he is a theological student from the Diocese of Arizona and is an alumnus of the University of California. His wife is a graduate of Mills College and has done graduate work at the University of California.

With the addition of the vicarage, the mission will have a parish hall and Sunday school wing complete. Bertel Anderson is working on the plans from sketches by Artist Loren Holmwood, using native materials for the erection of the chapel in the spring.

The lake front commercial lot donated by Fred Kilner is being offered for sale or an exchange of work by a contractor. Interested parties may call Gordon Moyer, lay reader of the church.

Parents desiring to enroll children in the church school may contact Ives at JU 3-3329 and anyone wishing to assist in preparing the church may call Rev. Carlson.

DEPARTMENT TO BE ON ALERT TO STOP ILLEGAL RUM SALES

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The state department of alcoholic beverage control will be busy in December trying to head off some schemes that were hatched in September.

This is the department's annual crackdown on illegal liquor sales, below the fair trade minimum prices, for the holiday season.

James Reimel, deputy ABC director, said the deals for heavily discounted wholesale liquor sales to retailers probably were made as early as September.

"Now, in December, we want to see what the retailers do with it," Reimel said.

In past years, certain retailers have made arrangements with representatives of big firms to supply big quantities of liquor at considerably below the fair trade prices. In some cases, the firm representative merely has purchased the liquor for business entertaining during the holidays.

However, in other cases, the person in the firm has acted as an agent, taking orders from the various employees for odd assortments and amounts of liquor, all at the illegal prices.

And the practice has not been confined to private business either. Several years ago, the department uncovered a big operation in the state department of motor vehicles. A department employee took orders from a large number of employees for below-price whiskey which he purchased in a large quantity from a Sacramento liquor store.

Reimel said enforcement agents will concentrate on retailers who have dealt in below-priced liquor before. They will keep a close watch on them, and whenever possible, make purchases at the illegal prices in order that disciplinary action may be taken against such licensees.

OFF-SEASON MEETS AT TAHOE URGED

TAHOE CITY — Robert Mohun, conference sales manager of Olympic Village at Squaw Valley told Rotarians, North Lake Tahoe motel owners and businessmen attending a recent Rotary Club meeting how off season business may be improved, even to filling motels to capacity if all business will cooperate. He said the some 400 delegates to the recent Church of Christ convention at Squaw Valley is an example of the potential business that can be had.

Wendall Russell, local motel owner, was spokesman for motel owners of all North Tahoe that had organized to welcome the delegates to the Church of Christ convention to Squaw Valley. He suggested that businessmen of Tahoe City organize and form a committee to get pledges from the various types of business to create a fund for publicizing the North Tahoe area for conventions. A number of local businessmen attending the meeting said they were surprised at the added business they realized from the Church of Christ convention. They indicated their willingness of participating.

Mohun told of the numerous inquiries received from a variety of business firms about facilities at Squaw Valley and the surrounding area for conventions with delegates from 50 to 1,500.

William Newsom, Jr. whose father has the lease on Olympic Village gave a brief talk of the potential of conventions in the off season.

Gordon Moyer presided over the meeting that packed the Tahoe Inn dining room to capacity. Herb Beck, chairman of the Christmas party for children of the community, reported presents had been purchased for the annual occasion on December 22 starting at 7 p. m. The big pine tree in center of highway has been lighted but, is yet to be trimmed for better lighting.

SOROPTIMISTS WILL MEET IN K.B. BOWL

TAHOE CITY—The Soroptimist Club of Lake Tahoe will change its meeting place during the month of December from the Crystal Bay Club to the Kings Beach Bowl.

Three meetings are slated for the club in December, two business meetings, December 5 and December 12, with a board of directors meeting preceding the December 12 meeting, Maggie Stollery, presiding.

The last meeting of the month will be a Christmas party at the home of Barbara Spitsen in Tahoe City. Soroptimists from Tahoe City will furnish the dinner, with Marty Rieck serving as chairman of the gift exchange and entertainment.

The Christmas party will be on December 19 at 6:30 p. m.

Plans for the Soroptimist Thrift Shop are gaining momentum, with all members collecting, sorting and tagging merchandise as it is collected.

HEUGA TO COMPETE IN CHAMPIONSHIPS

H.; Chuck Ferris of Houghton, Mich.; Jimmy Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif.; Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt.; Bill Marlot of Aspen, Colo., and Buddy Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo.

LIFESAVERS

California law allows you to make a right turn against a red light at most intersections. Don't disobey the law, cautions the California State Automobile Association, by doing it illegally. You must come to a complete stop before making the turn and remain stopped until pedestrians have crossed the street. You must also yield the right of way to vehicles approaching from the left. Remember, a right turn against the red light can be made only after stopping and when the intersection is clear of pedestrians and vehicles.

MOTORISTS WARNED ON FLASHING LIGHTS

Many motorists apparently are unaware that they must stop upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which displays flashing red lights, while others mistakenly halt their vehicles whenever they see a stopped school bus.

"Reports reaching California Highway Patrol headquarters indicate that confusion exists over the law which defines when a stop is required in the vicinity of a school bus," Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said.

"School buses may use flashing red signals only when a stop has been made to receive or discharge youngsters who must cross the roadway to reach or upon leaving the bus."

Other vehicles, either approaching or overtaking the bus, must stop when the red signals are flashing, and remain stopped until the signal goes off.

"If the bus is stopped but the lights are not flashing, other motorists may pass the bus, exercising normal caution."

"The only time that you may pass a bus which is displaying the flashing red signal is when you are driving on a divided highway and the bus is on the opposite roadway," the commissioner said.
